The Determinants of Health

For too long, we have equated health almost exclusively with the amount and quality of medical care.

- Genetics: 5%
- Medical Care: 20%
- Behavioural Factors: 20%
- Environmental and Social Factors: 55%

4. GP monitors child’s weight.
1. Experienced Child Health Registered Nurse undertakes B4SC checks in a variety of locations including: Preschools, kohanga reo, doctors’ clinics, churches and marae (decline rate is 1 in 5).

2. If child’s BMI in ‘red’ zone, the child’s Whānau Navigator is alerted and discusses with the child and whānau on its aspirations and a well-being plan.

3. Based upon the GP Assessment, the Whānau Navigator discusses the outcomes with the child and whanau and arranges referrals to community specialists.

4. Navigator monitors child’s weight and provides information to GP.

Whānau Navigator arranges GP assessment and is notified of the outcomes.
